The Intensive English Institute is a noncredit intensive language program offered by the Division of English as a Second Language and the Office of Continuing Education and Public Service. The program is designed (1) for foreign students already accepted in an American college or university or seeking admission to such an institution, (2) for visiting foreign scholars and lecturers, and (3) for other individuals whose professional objectives require proficiency in English.

A professional staff, along with the facilities and resources of this University, provide instruction at all levels of English language proficiency: elementary, intermediate, and advanced.

The University of Illinois has offered English as a Second Language instruction since the spring of 1947 and has had an intensive language program since 1967.

Facilities

Participants in the Intensive English Institute have access to the many recreational facilities on campus, such as swimming pools, tennis courts, golf courses, soccer field, and ice skating rink, as well as the various student union rooms, lounges, snack bar, cafeteria, dining rooms, and games, billiard, and bowling areas.

Campus activities range from competitive intramural and intracollegiate sports to lecture series, campus movies, amateur and professional plays, dance performances, and concerts.

Site

The University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign is a center for education and research in the Midwest. It is located in the twin cities of Urbana and Champaign, 120 miles south of Chicago, Illinois. The campus extends over 639 acres in the heart of central Illinois farm land.

Access

The Urbana-Champaign campus is accessible by plane, train, or bus. The University of Illinois–Willard Airport is served by Britt Airways, Ozark Air Lines, and Air Illinois. AMTRAK train service is available, as Champaign lies on the main railway line between Chicago and New Orleans. Greyhound and Illini Swallow Bus Lines serve all major cities in Illinois.

Program of Study

- Computer-assisted instruction on PLATO (Programmed Logic for Automatic Teaching Operations)
- Individualized assignments to extend instruction into the world outside the classroom
- Field trips of general and educational interest which provide orientation and communication practice
- Access to the University of Illinois Library, the largest state university library and the third largest of all university libraries in the nation

- The University of Illinois English Placement Test administered at the beginning of each term to determine appropriate course assignment
- A minimum of twenty hours per week of classroom instruction, including practice in listening, speaking, reading, and writing in meaningful contexts.
- Language laboratory
- Automatic weekly telephone lessons available through direct dialing in the home twenty-four hours per day.

- As appropriate, opportunities to audit courses in relevant academic fields.
- A standardized test of English proficiency (TOEFL: Test of English as a Foreign Language) at the end of the term
- An end-of-term report evaluating proficiency and performance with recommendations concerning further study

Admission

Applicants to the Intensive English Institute must have successfully completed at least secondary school or its equivalent. Official English language versions of transcripts for secondary and college/university work should be submitted with the application. These are evaluated before admission is granted. The applicant is also requested to provide some indication of his current proficiency in English if possible.

Admission is restricted to applicants who can present evidence of sufficient financial support to cover all expenses during their study in the institute.

Admission to the institute does not constitute admission to the University of Illinois.

Visa

Upon their acceptance into the program, students will receive a letter of acceptance and a Certificate of Eligibility (Form I-20), if required. These are to be submitted with an application for a visa to the United States embassy or consulate.

Housing

Lodging is available in private facilities during the academic year and in University dormitories in the summer. Because of the wide variety of housing available in the campus area, it is suggested that students wait until they arrive on campus to arrange room contracts. It is further recommended that students plan to arrive two or three days prior to the registration date to finalize their housing needs.

Insurance and Health Service

Insurance and student health service are available and are required for participants in the institute. If a student wishes not to participate in the University insurance program, proof of other insurance coverage must be supplied at the time of registration. All students must pay the student health service fee.
